

IIMSR

Imperial Institute of Management Science & Research

A Unit Of Wales Educational Trust

DIPLOMA IN RURAL DEVELOPMENT

Duration: 2 Year

Level: Diploma after 10+2

Eligibility: 10+2

18,000/ Sem

Introduction

Diploma in Rural Development takes the topics like socio-economics, governance, project planning and management, financial management into account.

Developing in house rural organizations and enterprises by making strategies to acquire funds is also taught in Post Graduate Diploma program in Rural Development.

Who should opt for Post Graduate Diploma in Rural Development?

India being a country of villages and farmers, there is a need to develop a large part of the country as yet, which in turn would contribute to nation's development. So, this course is for everyone who is concerned about nation's growth and the rural community.

Anyone who possesses leadership skills, ability to handle masses and a friendly attitude can opt for this course.

What do you learn?

Students are taught to interact with the beneficiaries and local administration in order to get approval for their project, prepared for the betterment of the rural community. In addition, they are also taught to make presentations that have relevant research and facts to present to the agencies that would provide funds for the progression of their projects.

Students learn about the issues and their causes that need to be resolved which include making the rural areas sustainable.

Spontaneous and dynamic ways are to be introduced every now and then in this field, to earn more and more profits that this program also provides training for.

The main objectives of the program are making students aware of the concepts, approaches and opportunities of sustainable development. In addition knowledge about the human and natural/ non- natural resources and their sustainable use is also an integral part of the course structure.

High skills to develop and implement projects are also a main objective covered in this course.

Students can work as following in Rural Development field: